Progress on the CD so far:

All recording, including finishing Hevy Revy has been done. We've analyzed, rehashed, inspected, neglected, and selected the first version mix, so now Kevin is working on the second version. If no more tweaking is needed on that, it goes to the mastering house, and then to the manufacturer.

The artwork is all finished, so that is ready to go. Here is the album cover, with the shot of Larry taken in the Erath County jail:

Still looks largely on track for an October release, depending on how much more mixing we have to do.
