

Lone Star Percussion

Contributed by Larry Lawless
Tuesday, 06 January 2009

Whenever I need instruments or supplies, my first stop is Lone Star Percussion in the Dallas, Texas area. I have been doing business with this place since it opened, through many friends who are either owners or employees. They have whatever you need, or can get it for you. Great people, great prices.

www.lonestarpercussion.com

Nope, this is not a paid advertisement, just passing along some good advice. Still waiting on that Duluth Trading Company endorsement, though....